6 Use of the Non-Standard Safety Provision – section 12 of the Swimming Pool Safety Act

To be completed if the Non Standard Safety Provision has been used

Section 12 of the Swimming Pool Safety Act enables the Nhulunbuy Corporation to approve a barrier, or part of a barrier, even where it does not comply with the Modified Australian Standards. The as the consent authority, the Nhulunbuy Corporation must be satisfied that access to the pool would not pose an unacceptable risk to a child and that the owner is aware of the risks posed to a child by the pool. It is the Swimming Pool Safety Authority’s decision as to whether the barrier may use the Non Standard Safety Provision.

The provision may be used where it would be impracticable or unreasonable to require such compliance because of:

- the physical characteristics of the land;
- the physical characteristics of the buildings on the land; or
- the nature of the design and construction of the pool.

OR

- the pool is at premises that are less than 300 square metres in area and access from a residential building is restricted in accord with the Community Safety Standard (CSS) or the Modified Australian Standards (MAS);
- the pool fronts a body of water and access from a residential building is restricted in accord with the CSS or the MAS;
- the pool is a spa and all points of entry are doors, gates, or windows that self-close and latch and access is restricted when spa is not in use;
- or the pool is a spa with a lockable lid; or
- the barrier is louvre windows fitted with security bars or screens, and access is only through self-closing and self-latching doors or gates.

If your barrier has had the Non Standard Safety provision applied to it, you must provide the particulars of your barrier (including photographs) and why the Non Standard Safety provision has been used here:
